President Wilson Addresses Congress-- States His Plans and Gives Reason Why He Goes to Sit at Peace Table-- Plot Unearthed in Berlin to Restore Kaiser--New York Has Another Gun- man Plot Murder

AMERICAN ARMY ENTERED WITHOUT DISPLAY

(By Associated Press)
American Army of Occupation, Sunday, Dec. 1.—No demonstration, either friendly or hostile, marked the entry of Major General Dickman's army into Germany today. The frontier was crossed early in the day and by nightfall the Americans had moved forward 12 miles reaching Hagen on the left and Saarbrücken on the right.

(By Associated Press)
Addressing Congress in joint session today, President Wilson formally announced his intention of going to Paris for the peace conference, saying that the allied governments had accepted certain principles enunciated by him for peace and it was his paramount duty to be present. He said he would be in close touch by cable and wireless and that Congress would know all that he did on the other side. Referring to his announcement that the French and British governments had removed all cable restrictions upon the transmission of all news of the conference to America, the President said he had taken over the American cable system on expert advice so as to make a unified system available. He expressed the hope that he would have the cooperation of the public and of Congress, saying through the cable and wireless constant counsel and advice would be possible. Much of the address was devoted to the railroad problem for which the President said he now had no solution to offer. He recommended careful study by Congress, saying it would be a dis-service to this country and to the railroads to permit a return to old conditions under private management without modification. He declared he stood ready to release the railroad from government control whenever a satisfactory plan of readjustment could be worked out. The President said he hoped to see a formal declaration of peace by treaty by the time peace has come.

No definite program of reconstruction should be outlined now, he said, but as soon as the armistice was signed government control of business and industry was released as far as possible.

He expressed the hope that Congress would not object to conferring upon the War Trade Board or some other agency the right to fix export priorities.

As to taxation the President endorsed the plan for levying six billion dollars in 1919 and for notifying the public in advance that the 1920 levy would be four billion dollars. The new three year naval building program was endorsed because the President said it would be unwise to attempt to adjust the American program to a future world policy as yet undetermined. He paid tribute to the people's conduct in war. He spoke particularly of the work of women and the joint appeal for women suffrage by Federal amendment, declaring he had no "private thoughts or purposes" in going to Paris but he regarded it as his highest duty. The President added: "It is now my duty to play my full part in making good what they (America's soldiers) offered their life blood to obtain."

ORDER 25 PER CENT CUT ON NAVY YARDS

The department has issued orders to all navy yards calling for 25 per cent reduction of the civilian force between now and January 1, 1919.
In regard to this discharge, Constructor Adams, head of the Industrial Department, immediately took the matter up with the department on a claim that the work now under way at the Portsmouth yard cannot be carried out with any reduction in the force. The constructor expects some discharges from time to time during the remainder of the year, but it is not likely that the government will insist on the release of 25 per cent when it is realized the large amount of work under way.

Nothing definite will be determined until the Industrial manager returns further from Washington. However, he is satisfied that there will be no 25 per cent reduction.

HANDCUFFED PRISONER TO AUTOMOBILE

Auto Chased by Officers for Booze Tips Over and One Badly Injured.

Two men, said to belong in Bangor, came to grief on Saturday night on the highway just over the state line after running the blockade of the federal officers and sheriffs.

The blockade runners on their way east refused to stop when the officers gave them the high sign and continued on at a rapid pace.

The officers gave chase, but the Maine car was full of speed and lead the officers for quite a distance until it struck a bad place in the road and was ditched two miles east of Bangor. This ended the wild run and put both men in the hospital.

When the officers caught up to the wrecked car they found one of the party badly injured.

The other man came out with slight injuries. The badly injured man required all the attention the officers could give him and for a while it was a puzzle what they would do with the other passenger.

The officers finally solved the problem by handcuffing him to the automobile, while they rushed the other man to a Newburyport hospital. On the way back to get the other prisoner who they intended to bring to Dover, they brought a doctor who made an examination and decided that he should go to the hospital.

The first man, picked up is said to have suffered several broken ribs and was badly cut and bruised on the body.

Twelve quarts of liquor were found in the machine. The men gave their names as Whelan and Andrews.

ONE MORE LIGHT IS BADLY NEEDED

Passengers Obligated to Get Off of Long Trains in the Dark.

The five high candle power lights at the Boston and Maine depot are a great improvement and much appreciated by the public, but just one more light is needed and that should be placed out in the yard at the west end of the depot where hundreds of passengers are obliged to get off the rear of long trains, especially on Sunday nights, way up in the yard where there is neither a platform or a light. All no place is a light more needed for the benefit of the traveling public and its hard to understand why the company overlooked this when the new lights were put in place.

IMPORTANT WORK OF N. H. COLLEGE

New Hampshire College, Durham, Nov. 2.—The next two weeks will see a drive on the part of the Farm Bureau of the state to strengthen their organizations preparatory to the coming year's work. Most of the counties have now held their annual meetings, have outlined their programs of work and are now preparing to seek the support from the communities which the Farm Bureau work has earned. Reports received at the Central Extension office here indicate that the coming year will see another big advance in dairy improvement, the use of leguminous crops, co-operative marketing, better poultry management, clothing and food conservation and the other features of Farm Bureau work.

In addition to these factors, which are gradually transforming New Hampshire agriculture, it is expected that the Farm Bureaus will be asked by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to carry out through the State the great national agricultural reconstruction program which is now being shaped in Washington, and which is counted upon to prevent famine in Europe and so build the foundation for a stable peace.

Professor J. C. Kendall, director of extension work, says that the farm bureaus have this year kept up the educational campaign which is helping to improve agricultural conditions all over the state and at the same time they have helped carry out the national war program. He thinks that the best possible organization should be made now as it is quite probable that the food problem may be even more critical in the near future than it has yet been. The importance in their communities of the farm bureaus now in operation is indicated by the fact that in Rockingham County which has an exchange which has already done $123,000 worth of business.

Collecting donations an Italian woman living in Philadelphia has been able to save $2900 during the last 40 years. She has supported herself since her husband died, 40 years ago, selling donations to her countrymen in the Quaker City.

Professor C. W. Dotan of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, representing the War Industries Board, explained to the state Advisory Board and Manchester Labor Community Boards on Wednesday the method by which the survey is to be made, and today Director Sawyer turned loose his field men on the job. They will seek to ascertain the supply and demand of labor presenting the prospective and particularly how the release of men from war work affects industry.

EXETER

Exeter, Dec. 2.—News from the boys overseas is now beginning to come in. Mr. and Mrs. Issachar Doug recently received a communication from their son, Ralph W. Thomas Sheehy of Newfields received a letter from his son, Thomas R. Sheehy, with the 82d division, dated Nov. 13, in which he stated that he would probably sail for New York soon, and that he expected to remain in quarantine for 24 days after landing. All of the boys said that they were well.
A reception is to be tendered to Rev. and Mrs. James W. Hervey, the new pastor of the Methodist church, in the church this evening. ## 3,000 People of Portsmouth Recommend and Endorse DR. T. T. ESTABROOKS As the only Real Painless Dentist in this city

I have practiced dentistry in Portsmouth for the past four years and during that time I have built up the largest practice in New Hampshire. I have done this by honest methods, absolute painless methods and perfect work and I firmly believe that the public, knowing these facts to be true, will guard themselves and act accordingly.

(DR. T. T. ESTABROOKS vs. "THE IMITATOR")

Look well into the record of your dentist. Beware of imitation painless dentists who generally follow in my path, hinting vaguely that they have some of the wonderful inventions that I have imitate and copy my methods in the hope that they may reap some of the benefit justly mine.

Nowhere in Portsmouth can one obtain the expert dental work at the low cost I charge them, except in my office where one will find a staff of expert dentists whose reputation compares favorably with the best dentists in the country.

HUNDRED PER CENT AMERICAN

"One hundred percent American personnel for the American ships" is the slogan of the United States Shipping Board; and Edwin Reynolds of Boston, a special agent of the Board, is now in New Hampshire to extend an invitation to men between 18 and 35, inclusive, to enter at once the world's best-paid merchant service.
Restoration of peace means many more opportunities for loyal Americans in the Merchant Marine; and indications this week are that New Hampshire, already well represented, will send many more of her sons to sail the merchant ships. The merchant service has received the ringing endorsement of Governor Keyes and the governors of many other states, and over 30,000 American young men from 48 states have already enrolled.
The United States Shipping Board at Boston, is now receiving applications daily from New Hampshire young men who are anxious to begin a career on the sea. These men are trained about six weeks on the Maine, Calvin Austin, Gov. Dingley or Gov. Cobb at Boston, and are then ready to go into regular sea jobs at regular sea pay, which is high.

No Time for Pessimism.

Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board has no patience with the business men who are trembling for the future of business in this country, and is confident that the United States is facing the greatest era of prosperity in its history. He does not claim that business is to continue indefinitely on the present high-bounding scale, but he thinks that after the necessary readjustment has taken place there will be steady and profitable business and a general expansion along all lines.

For one thing, Mr. Baruch believes that labor standards and wages in foreign countries will more nearly equal those of America than ever before, and this, he argues, will improve this country's chances in the markets of the world. As for business at home there is nothing to be feared, Mr. Baruch believes. The sudden termination of the war may throw some kinds of business more or less out of joint for a short time, but matters will soon adjust themselves and manufacture will go forward with good returns to capital and labor.

There is every reason for believing Mr. Baruch's conclusions to be correct. This is a country of vast resources and the work of developing them is not going to cease or materially slacken for any length of time because the country and the world have been at war. There is a great deal of building up to be done and the United States can be depended upon to do its share of the work.

Until after the next harvest this country must continue to contribute liberally toward feeding the world, and this in itself insures prosperity to the farmers. During the war numerous lines of manufacture have been curtailed and the mills are bound to him while lost time is being made up. This will mean a healthy demand for labor and prosperity that is never lacking when labor is generally and profitably employed.

It is not to be expected that business can continue with such a rush as the war has occasioned. Anything of this sort is out of the question. Neither is there cause to fear anything resembling panic. Business and labor will have to adjust themselves to changed conditions, and there should be no difficulty in doing this if all will face the facts squarely and not attempt to carry war wages and war prices and profits into the era of peace. Fortunately, there is a large amount of "horse sense" among the business men and workmen of the country, who undoubtedly will adjust themselves to the changed conditions with a promptness that would be surprising were we not familiar with American capacity and American ways.

This is no time for pessimism. The greatest and most productive country in the world is not going out of business because the war is ended. It is going straight ahead in the work of development, which will mean continued and increasing prosperity for both capital and labor.

Chairman Baruch of the War Industries Board says that many men who have been serving the government at one dollar a year gave up salaries or profits amounting to $100,000 a year or more in numerous cases. But isn't that just the kind of men who could afford to work for a dollar a year for a short time?

Some Turkish and French papers are advocating American control of the Turkish gendarmerie and finances, but there should be nothing of that sort. This country was forced to play a part in the war, but there must be no strings tying it to European affairs after the details of settlement have been completed.

The Thomas J. Mooney murder case in California has been disposed of, for a few years at least, by the commutation of the death sentence to imprisonment for life. The agitation that apparently led to this action may well engage the attention of the serious-minded.

It is no wonder that some of the citizens of Killery begin to feel the need of police protection, notwithstanding the fact that the best policed towns are not immune from burglarious operations.

The bridge across the Atlantic is still in working order, but the boys are now coming over instead of going over. And behind them they leave ample proof that they got there "in time."

The price of coal has taken another jump and now ranges from $10 to $12 a ton for the different varieties. The coal world evidently hasn't heard that the war is over.

The reception that will be tendered to President Wilson when he arrives in Europe will be of a character to cause the whole world to "sit-up and take notice."

LETTERS FROM OVER THERE

The following letter was received by relatives of Private Calvin W. Lear, of the 28th Division, serving in France, Nov. 5, 1918.

Dear Ones and All:—

A few lines to let you know I am still on earth and feeling very good. Trusting this letter will find all of you enjoying good health. I have written to you all but have not received any letters only one from Willie and cards from Ruth. If you received this be sure and answer. You don't know what a letter means to one in France. It surely put new life in me. Well, Gertie, I sure have traveled since I left home on May 25. If ever I get back I don't think I will want to travel any for a while anyway. This sure is an awful war. You people in the states don't know much about it. Only what you read in the papers. If you only could see some of it you would hate every German in sight. Most every little city or town is in ruins, and that is not the worse of it. There are so many things I could tell you if I could write them. This morning about 5:30 for breakfast we had shells breaking around us. I tell you it is some excitement when they start flying, but I think it will be over soon. At least I hope so. God sure has been good to me so far. You know what Siegfried said (War is hell). He was right. Still there are some interesting things about it. Of course there is a dark side and a bright side in all life. So we must not kick, at least I am doing kicking. If we were allowed to have a camera I could send you some very interesting pictures, but that I can't do. Believe me, if I live through this July 4th will be like a funeral to me. Brother tells me that there is a lot of sickness over there. We have it also besides all our troubles. The boys that stayed at home are lucky ones, but I am glad I came over and doing my bit, tough as it is. But I am standing it good so far. One noon as we were having dinner for dessert we had bursting shells. I wish you could see us do the tango for a jingout. That is a place of safety under ground. But it won't be long now before U. S. will get old Jerry, and the boys will be coming home again, that is, what is left of them. I don't know where any of the boys are that I was in camp with, as I was transferred in the 28th Division which has been doing wonderful work and made a big name for itself. You will know later. Well, dear ones, I was lucky in not being disturbed in writing these few lines. Do answer as soon as you receive this and tell me all the news. Give my love and luck to all. Hoping I may see you all some time, but you know this life is a chance. Will say "so long" from your cousin, with the colors.

PRIV. CALVIN W. LEAR,
28th Div. Headquarters,
Col. Meigs

A. B. P.

A. P. O. 711.

The following letter was received Friday by Perry Sussman, from his brother, Joseph Sussman, who is serving in the Army in France.

Oct. 6, 1918,
Somewhere in France.

Dear Perry:

I got your nice long letter and it was a corker and I am beginning to think you are quite a kiddie, especially when you knock the size of my letters because they are so short. We can't write everything we would like to because it is against the censorship. So you see about all we can say is that we are alive and well. We have travelled up and down the fighting line and we are at a place now where the shells are going over into Germany pretty fast. We are not giving Jerry a chance to rest and if possible will give him a good licking before Christmas.

We are now in a big forest waiting for the order to send us up and get a shot at the Germans, and we have been waiting in different places for this same thing for the last two weeks. Then when this is over maybe we will get a little rest and then I can get a chance to send you and the rest some souvenirs. I sent some razors home and so far no one has replied to tell me whether they have received them or not. I have a nice silk purse for Ethel or mother that I have been carrying around for about a month and I haven't got a chance to send it home yet because we have been on the go so much. First we get a long cramped ride in auto trucks, then we hike a while and get another ride and so on.

The other day we saw the boys bring in about 300 prisoners in one day and they certainly were an old looking bunch about 40 years old.

The place we are in the Germans thought they were going to stay all winter by the way they had things fixed up. Their dugouts resembled nice fancy bungalows with pretty names on them and all fixed up with electric lights and pretty wall paper but when we sent over our artillery at them they beat it pretty quick. In fact so quick that they left a lot of stuff behind, especially rabbits and chickens, food and clothing. The boys say those rabbits and chickens tasted fine after living for a couple of days on bacon and hard tack. Also you can see some of them sporting around in German boots and helmets as if they thought the war was all over. But we should worry as we live through it times and when we get a chance at something good we live like we were kings.

We got stuck for rats a couple of times, but we didn't worry as we got water from shell holes and made swell coffee out of it. Yesterday we got some flour and sugar and you ought to see us making pancakes over a wood fire. Believe me they were great. If we could only get an ice cream now and then the war wouldn't be bad at all. Maybe you could send me a couple of dozen ice cream cones by parcel post. I imagine back home every one is working pretty hard now and since they have either got to work or fight, because we need everyone back home working for us if you want us to come back soon.

Perry, we have got a little French mascot with us and he is a corker. He is just about as old as you are and he goes everywhere with us. Up to the trenches and even on patrols. We got him dressed up in an American uniform and he is some little soldier. You ought to see him with his pack helmet and gun. Everywhere we go they all stop and look at him and wonder where we got him. Just now the boys are holding their heads off because they say that the Central Powers have requested a few hours to consider President Wilson's peace terms. We all hope it is true but I may be a fake. Gee, I wish you could hear them holler but we may wake up tomorrow and find ourselves in the front line.

OUR BOYS SERVING UNDER STARS AND STRIPES

PEN SKETCHES AND PICTURES.

Arthur James Flanagan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Flanagan of 344 Carroll Avenue, Portsmouth, and is now serving with the American forces in France.

He was born at the navy yard and is 22 years of age. He attended the Parochial School and took a course at the Plymouth Business School. He enlisted in this city April 7, 1918, was sent to Tufts College where he received a special training course of two months, then was transferred to ARTHUR J. FLANAGAN.

Camp Mills, Long Island, and attached to Co. B, 315 Ammunition Train. He sailed for England on July 4th, and after a short training, was sent to France as a wagoner.

Roland Stannard Faulkner is the son of Thomas W. and Arabella Murphy Faulkner, born in Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 5, 1892. He attended the public schools here until he was twelve years of age when the family moved to Hartford, Conn., and where he completed his education, graduating from the high school in that city. Eight years ago he came to Portsmouth to reside with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faulkner. The young man was, for a number of years employed in the local freight office as billing clerk and later entered the employ of O. Fred Drew as bookkeeper, at the bottling establishment on Bow street until he entered the service in September 1917.

He went into training at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., and was assigned to Battery A, 203d Heavy Field Artillery and appointed Corporal shortly after. He went overseas in July 1918 and is now somewhere in France, Acting Instrument Sergeant of the same company which is part of the Depot Brigade of the 76th Division. A letter received from him on Tuesday of last week states he is in good health and having a fine time. The letter was written on Oct. 21 and tells how the Huns are on the run.

as he does about the place he expects to die in. One thing is certain, this city is not on record as extending him any gift edged invitation to become a temporary or permanent resident here.

OBSEQUIES

Lavina L. Dixon.

The funeral of the late Lavina L. Dixon was held from her late home in Killery on Sunday at 1:30, Rev. J. F. Jenner officiated. Interment was in the family lot O. W. Ham officiating.

GAVE ADDRESSES

Principal Perry of Phillips Exeter Academy gave the addresses at the Y. M. C. A. halls at Forts Constitution and Stark, New Castle, on Sunday evening. His topic was "Rules for Success" and well worth hearing and much appreciated by the enlisted men. The Messes McIntire furnished music for the services.

ENJOYED SONG SERVICE

A community sing was enjoyed by the enlisted men on Sunday afternoon at the Army and Navy service club on Court street. Mrs. Mabel Crosby was song leader and Miss Florence H. Marshall presided at the piano.

TO GIVE MUSICALS.

The Olivette Trio of Boston is here this week to entertain the enlisted men at the forts and navy yard, coming under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. War-Work Council.

Miss Dorothy Emerson has returned to her home in Manchester after a visit in this city as the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Windham.

Portsmouth is to have an auto freight line.

NAVY YARD NOTES

New Switchboard.

A new gallery electrical switchboard, 20x8, is being installed at the yard power plant. The new board will carry many improvements over the old one.

A New Pump Room.

The Welch Construction Company of Boston is constructing a new pump room at the local yard heating and lighting plant.

We Could Handle a Few.

An effort is being made at Boston to have the transport America, formerly the Amerika, a German liner, brought to the Charlestown yard for repairs. The ship was overhauled previous to entering the transport service.

Why not one or more of these former German boats for repairs at the local yard to prevent any big discharge which may be on the way.

It's Up to Him.

We know a fellow who was born in Portsmouth, Ohio, married in Portsmouth, Va., and is doing time in Portsmouth, N. H. He expects to die in Portsmouth, Eng. At any rate he says he wouldn't be caught dead in Portsmouth, N. H. According to our theological belief when he is finally bumped off, if he has lived a good life, he will go to Heaven, if a bad one to Portsmouth, N. H.

The above item is from the Mutual Welfare News printed at the naval prison. One Portsmouth is as good as another if a man behaves himself. It is evident that the prison's remark as to Portsmouth, N. H., is due to the fact that he happens to be here and egged up against his will. He probably knows as much about Portsmouth, N.

ELKS HOLD IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE

Honor Their Dead With Annual Ceremony
at Colonial Theatre—Gov. Elect
Bartlett Delivered the Eulogy

The annual memorial service of the Portsmouth Lodge of Elks was held at the Colonial theatre on Sunday afternoon and it was well attended. The services this year had an added significance, owing to the close of the war and to the fact that two of the thirteen members who have answered the last call, died in the service of their country.

It was the usual impressive service of the Elks, a solemn memorial for those members who have departed this life since a year ago, and after the roll call their names are placed with the honored dead of the lodge.

The eulogy was delivered by Governor-Elect John H. Bartlett, a member of the lodge, and his was a most eloquent tribute to the men who have gone and to the spirit of the Elks which never forgets its dead.

In his eulogy Col. Bartlett said: "This hour is consecrated to our dead, and therefore speaks with sobering and uplifting voice to us who are living. Our brothers have fallen on the blood stained fields and gone down into the deep in large numbers. Their memory is dear, their martyrdom is glorious. For them we have done all that it will ever be our privilege to do, except to offer our prayers to their spirits' welfare, and to carve their names deeply on the tablets of love and memory. What they may now know we cannot know, we can only hope.

Has their going out ushered in better days for their children? Have they lifted the clouds to a world of more enduring sunlight? Has brotherly love which we extol, which we almost worship, spread its soft mantle more potently over the peoples of the world? All this we trust we see, all this we hope and believe.

This world-day has cemented men's friendship. It has welded a new brotherhood. It has made us all more human and yet more humane and religious. Shall we drop these blessings of war-untilty and sympathy and plunge again into the old mad rush for money and power, or shall we conserve these new war-born riches of soul and spirit? These are the problems of the church and the fraternity. I believe both to be well-ordered instrumentalities of our pilgrimage. Each has a wholesome influence on the other. The church inspires the brotherhood with a religious ideal. The brotherhood challenges the church away from fanaticism and bigotry into a better spirit of things human and sympathetic. The war will make the fraternal brotherhood more religious, and the church more humanly utilitarian, and this is well, indeed, for all. Our Brother, Captain and Doctor

Fred S. Towle, is with us more in his accustomed place. A noble brother, a cheerful friend, an upright citizen and a conspicuous patriot, has become a nation's hero, and a glorious martyr to the cause of freedom which we may now enjoy. The price he paid was a part of the awful price which has preserved all our institutions even this lodge of Elks. Let us hope and believe that he may now, across the trackless way that separates us, hear our grateful thanksgiving for what he did for the living in his supreme sacrifice.

An orchestra of ten pieces under the leadership of Chauncey Hoyt rendered the musical program, and the Aeolian quartet rendered in their usual excellent manner several selections. A cornet solo by Mr. Bernier was very fine and a solo by Mr. Cook was very well rendered.

The following was the program:
March Funereal.....Chaplin
Suite, Op. 113.....Lachner
Orchestra.

Selection—"Night".....King
Aeolian Quartet.
Opening Ceremonies. Officers of Lodge
Invocation by Bro. Thomas J. Lynch,
Chaplain of the Lodge.
Response by Quartet.

Selection—"The Vacant Chair".....Smith
Quartet.
Conclusion of Opening Ceremonies.
Singing of Opening Ode.
Solo—"God be with Our Boys Tonight"
Ernest L. Cook.

Eulogy—John H. Bartlett, Portsmouth
Lodge.
Carnet Solo—Selected.
Mr. Bernier.

Closing Ode.
Benediction.
Postlude—"Festival March".....Mendelssohn
Orchestra.

The following are the officers of the lodge who had charge of the services: Exalted ruler, William J. Kennedy; esteemed leading knight, Bernard J. McGraw; esteemed loyal knight, Thurston A. ### DRIVER RELEASED ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Accident Causing Death of Mrs. Meloon Was Unavoidable.

James Mangum, driver of the automobile which struck and killed Mrs. William G. Meloon on Saturday, was released by the police today.

The driver had been held on a charge of manslaughter since the fatal accident. Today the police took up the case with County Attorney Sleeper, Modelar Referee Fender and several witnesses of the affair.

It was the general opinion that it was an unavoidable accident and that there was no reckless driving on the part of the driver. The machine was in low gear when the woman was struck. Both the driver and a woman passenger in the car claim they saw nothing of the woman until they felt one of the wheels go over her body and heard her cries. Mrs. Meloon came from the left hand side of the street and was on her way to the ferry landing when the fatal accident occurred.

KILLED UNDER WHEEL OF AUTO

Mrs. Meloon, Wife of Gen. Mangaer W. G. Meloon, Struck by Auto on Bow and Market Streets

Mrs. Jessie F. Meloon, wife of General Manager W. G. Meloon of the Portsmouth, Dover and York Street Railway, was run over by an automobile on Saturday evening and received injuries from which she died an hour later at the Portsmouth hospital.

The accident happened at the corner of Bow and Market street and shortly before 5 o'clock. The car was witnessed by many people. The car was driven by James Mangano, aged 19, a driver for a repair garage on Linden street, and he was on the way to the depot with a woman passenger. He claims that he was running in low gear, having almost stopped his car to get through the passengers going to the suffering, but she died within an hour. The front wheel had passed over her chest, crushing it.

Mrs. Jessie Fernald Meloon was a native of Kittery and one of the best known and respected women of that town, having held the position of postmistress for a number of years, regardless of the political changes, and her death is a great shock to everybody who knew her and to know her was to admire her unflinching good nature and charitable disposition.

James Mangano, who drove the car, reported to the police after the accident and when news was received of the death of Mrs. Meloon he was arrested and will be held for hearing this morning. Eye witnesses of the accident, however, seem to be of the opinion that he was not to blame.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and logy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them. Like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The uric is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water acids and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

SHOULD BE FAST MATCH

Peter Sturgis, who has been making a great showing about Boston, will meet Bill Dryden in a finished match at Freeman's hall on Monday evening. Sturgis has never shown in this city and he is rated with the fastest of the men of his weight in the country.

Dryden apparently was none for his three hours' match with Metro last week, and is fast recovering his strength, for he has never fully recovered from his attack of the influenza. He claims now that he is in the pink of condition and as strong as ever and if defeated there is no all-out stuff. Dryden's matches have been drawing good crowds and the fans have been thoroughly satisfied; they have been hard and fought to the finish and at all times real matches.

BETHMANN-HOLLWEG URGES INVESTIGATION.

London, Dec. 2.—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, German imperial chancellor at the outbreak of the war, is eager for an investigation into his share in the origin of the conflict, according to a statement he has made to the North German Gazette as quoted by the Central News correspondent at Copenhagen.

He refers to the Bavarian revelations regarding the war's origin and protests against the publication of fragmentary extracts from documents and the deductions made from them.

He admits that Germany was not surprised at Austria's action regarding Serbia, but declares he was not aware of the text of the ultimatum before it was dispatched and when he saw it he regards it as too sharp, both in its tone and as to the demands made. He says he is anxiously awaiting the day when his case may be judged by an impartial governmental tribunal.

"We will admit our errors," he adds, "but will not allow ourselves to be forced to make untrue confessions."

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Equal Suffrage Association will be held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at the auditorium of the Carpenter Memorial Library in Manchester. An interesting program is assured and among the speakers will be Mrs. E. L. Livermore, a director of the National organization; Miss Rosa L. Porter of New York, and Mrs. Mary I. Wood of this city. There will be a number from this city attend the session.

RED CROSS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

Two weeks from tomorrow the Christmas roll call of the American Red Cross will be launched in Boston and New England, as well as throughout the rest of the country. And in the week that follows, from Dec. 16 to 23, every man, woman and child in New England will be afforded the opportunity of answering the Christmas roll call by the payment of one dollar, no more and no less, and thereby becoming a member of this wonderful organization for the coming year.

This approaching campaign is distinctly a membership, and in no sense a money campaign. It has as its main, its only purpose, the securing of as large a membership as possible. In the similar membership campaign a year ago, the Christmas roll call idea had not then been evolved, something over 15,000,000 members were secured for the current year. It is expected that everyone of these twenty-five millions will renew his or her membership and that, in addition, fully as many more persons not previously included upon the Red Cross rolls will cheerfully welcome the opportunity of giving their dollar in return for membership for 1919.

"Universal Membership" is to be the slogan with "Your Heart and a Dollar" of the coming Christmas roll call. With that idea of "Universal Membership" paramount, it is obvious that there is no occasion for quotas nor have any been assigned for divisions or sections. The entire campaign is to be everywhere upon the 100 per cent basis and membership of upwards of 50,000,000 would closely approach the "universal" idea. When it is borne in mind that there is a Junior organization for the children—although children will be permitted to become full members in this campaign it prohibits so desire, and that the members of the army and navy will not be solicited, even though their membership is none the less welcome.

As Eliot Wadsworth, acting head of the American Red Cross, said at a meeting in this city last week, it is an interesting, a noteworthy fact that the one feature of the Red Cross that has made the deepest impression upon the people of our allies, during the past year, has been not that the Red Cross was able to raise a hundred million dollars for war relief work in one of its money campaigns, but that 25,000,000 Americans were behind the organization as actual active paid-in members. It seemed incredible to the people of France, Belgium, England, Italy and Poland that even the Red Cross could have so large a membership.

Those closest to Red Cross affairs, those who have had the best opportunity to observe the attitude of the public toward the Red Cross since the armistice was signed, are confident that in the minds of the American people the termination of actual warfare does not mean that the usefulness of the Red Cross is over. Rather, it is confidently expected that the American people will realize that the work of the Red Cross has really just begun; that while there will not be so much nursing of the wounded, or so many emblems maintained as in the past, the work of rehabilitation of great sections of the countries devastated by the enemy, and the caring for and clothing for the returning refugees will constitute, very obviously, a work that will be more stupendous in the immediate future than any the Red Cross has yet undertaken.

It is a work that will require the greatest activity, not only in foreign fields, but here at home where the families of soldiers in thousands of instances, will still require much attention and where the soldiers themselves, when they are returned home, will need in many cases careful and continued attention by the Red Cross before they become thoroughly readjusted to a life of peace rather than of war. And, in addition to all this, there will always be the emergency feature of Red Cross work to be looked out for. This wonderful organization has shown what it can do in the Halifax disaster of just a year ago, in the mountain explosion in New Jersey and in the influenza epidemic. And in the future, quite regardless of all other phases of its work, the Red Cross must be fully prepared as in the past to handle immediately and completely any emergency whenever or wherever it may arise.

The chairman of the Christmas roll call for New England will be George A. Gaskill of Worcester. Mr. Gaskill has been selected by Mr. James Jackson of the New England division because of his active and successful connection not only with former Red Cross but Liberty Loan and War Fund drives in his home city, Worcester, having constantly "gone over the top" in all of these drives with a much higher excess percentage than any other city of similar or greater size in the entire country. No small measure of the success of the Worcester drives is due to the far-reaching plan of organization that has been used and the "Worcester plan" providing for the solicitation, once and only once, of every person in the community will be followed in the New England division campaign.

In all there will be seven divisions coming under Chairman Gaskill's supervision and direction. Connecticut for Red Cross purposes, has never been included in the New England division nor will it be in the coming Christmas roll call. Massachusetts is itself divided into the following divisions: Boston Metropolitan, Eastern Massachusetts and Western Massachusetts. As chairman for these divisions Mr. Gaskill has named Edwin S. Webster of Boston for the Metropolitan division; Fred W. S. Torrey for Eastern Massachusetts, and George A. Bauman of Springfield for Western Massachusetts. Frank L. Rawson of Portland, Me., will be chairman of the Maine division; Frank J. Sullivan of Concord for the New Hampshire division, and Hon. William W. Stickney for the Vermont division. Howard Knight will be chairman for the Rhode Island division with Howard J. Greene in charge at Providence. Each of these sectional chairmen will complete the organization in his respective territory as rapidly as possible. The offices for the New England division for the Christmas roll call will be at 95 Milk street, Boston, the Liberty Loan committee having placed at the disposal of the Red Cross the offices and employees for the next three weeks.

Chairman Gaskill's assistant will be David W. Armstrong, with Ernest M. Parsons as secretary. Philip S. Dalton, who has handled the speaking end of the Liberty Loan campaign, will be in charge of the speakers' bureau. Frank M. Eastman will be business manager and Walter E. Daggood publicity director. The office will be open daily and Chairman Gaskill and his staff will be on hand from now until the termination of the campaign.

OBSEQUIES

Mrs. Marcia E. Rand.

Mrs. Marcia E. Rand, wife of N. Sherman Rand, passed away quietly at her home in Hyde, N. H., Tuesday morning, Nov. 26, after an illness of only five days. There are left to mourn the loss a husband, a father, two sisters and six brothers.

Mrs. Rand was a young lady possessing sterling qualities of character, quiet, lovable and always thinking of the welfare of others and doing for those about her. A true, devoted wife, a helpful, faithful daughter, a lovable kind sister, a desirable, thoughtful neighbor, it may be truly said that she was everyone's friend.

Service was held at the home on Friday, Nov. 29, the Rev. Percy W. Caswell, pastor of the Court Street Christian church of Portsmouth, officiating. The poems used at the service were, "God Knows the Best" and "Sometime." The comfort chapter of the Bible, the 14th chapter of St. John, was read. In the remarks that were given Mr. Caswell spoke beautifully of the life of the loved one who had left and the remarks conveyed much comfort to the sorrowing mourners. Mr. Caswell sang "Does Jesus Care?"

The burial took place in the family lot in Harmony Grove cemetery and was in charge of Undertaker J. Verne Wood. The committal service was read at the grave side.

"Our Loved One," she has gone—
How quietly she went to sleep—
We miss her cheering word and smile.
We have the memory of her life to keep.

"Our Loved One," she has gone—
The heart, the home, the community are sad—
The virtues of her noble, Christian life
Inspire, encourage, and will serve to make all glad.

"Our Loved One," she has gone—
Her race on earth is run—
God grant we may rest as calmly
When our work, like hers, is done.

CLEARING DEWENS FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS

(By Associated Press)

Ayer, Mass., Dec. 1.—The 12th Plymouth Division is to be broken up at once and the 42d Infantry has been ordered to report at Camp Upton. Orders to this effect were received today from the Adjutant General's office. There is a belief here that room is being made for the returning soldiers from over there.

Eight thousand soldiers will be discharged this week and Sunday 500 were discharged and sent home. The 36th Infantry has been ordered placed at the disposal of Major General Clarence Edwards, commander of the Northeast.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Dandy, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually. Says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DOVER

Dover, Dec. 2.—In the case of state by Albert P. Sherry vs. Vasille Goudouros of Somersworth, heard by Chief Justice Kivel at the September term of the superior court, the decree was filed in the office of the clerk Saturday. It directs that the 600 cases of beer and ale in controversy, together with the cases and bottles containing the same, be declared forfeited, and it is further ordered that they be destroyed by the sheriff having them in his possession, as provided by chapter 147, laws of 1917.

Figures furnished by Superintendent of Schools Wignot shows that school children of Dover have already purchased war savings stamps to the amount of $1,904.10. School officials regard this showing as most creditable, especially in view of the fact that the campaign has not been pushed vigorously. The records show that Grade 7 of the Belknap school leads the schools of the city. The total amount purchased by this grade amounts to $608.00, Miss Ida B. Hanson teacher of this grade, according to the records has never been behind on any patriotic drive since the opening of the war and she is receiving high praise for her success in this particular drive.

The honor of being second in this drive among the Dover schools belongs to Grade 8, Central school, Miss Cavanaugh is the teacher of this grade and the amount which her scholars have subscribed is $480.25.

The regular meeting of the Hospital club will be held at the home of Miss Clara Hayes on Belknap street on Tuesday evening, Dec. 3, at 7:45.

Lieut. John P. McKernan spent the holidays with his parents on Payne street.

Hon. J. Z. Sullivan of Denver, Col., who has been entertained at the home of County Solicitor Albert P. Sherry and Mrs. Sherry over the holidays, has started on his return journey to Denver.

TERROR REIGNS IN GERMAN FACTORIES.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—Inquiry among the leading industrialists today drew out the admission that many of the largest plants in Berlin already are being systematically terrorized by the working forces. The latter are demanding exorbitant wage increases, shorter hours and other concessions calculated to ultimately force the employers to shut down.

The propaganda of Dr. Carl Liebknecht has been directly responsible for the usurpation of two big plants, which were lately seized by the workmen and are now being operated under their control. At the Pilschitz (Zerk) crane works, the Imperial Motor Company plant in the northern part of the city the factory hands, with the aid of soldiers, threw out the management. The funds and books of both firms were seized and armed guard soldiers placed in charge of the vault. The manager of the Imperial Motor Company, having secured trouble, succeeded in having the firm's bank balances transferred.

BIG DREADNOUGHT IS NOW WELL ADVANCED.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 30.—One of the great dreadnoughts authorized on the 1916 three-year building program is well advanced in construction at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co.

The keel of the 33,000-ton battleship was laid after the country went to war and, in spite of the call made on this yard for 32 destroyers to fight submarines, work on the big vessels has progressed satisfactorily. The hull has taken shape, and probably will be ready for launching within a few months.

This monster man-of-war will mount eight 16-inch rifles in four turrets on the center line, two forward and two aft, and naval officials believe that she will be the equal if not the superior of any warship afloat. Four of these ships were authorized and another is to be built here and two by the Fore River Shipbuilding company at Quincy, Mass.

SENATOR MOSES ADVOCATED FREE PORT

The following letter has recently been received by Oliver W. Friebel:

"Washington, D. C., Nov. 27, 1918. 'O. W. Friebel, Portsmouth, N. H.: 'Dear Sir:—Regarding your suggestion of Portsmouth as a free port, I would say I have always been interested in that general object, and I remember correctly, Senator Chandler some years ago in co-operation with the late Austin Corbin, attempted the establishment of a free port at Montauk Point, Long Island. Mr. Chandler filed, as I recollect, an interesting and valuable memorandum on the subject. If free ports are to be considered, I think it might be advisable to look up all Mr. Chandler then had to say and see if we can not utilize in the present movement the fruits of his earlier researches.

"Sincerely,

"GEORGE H. MOSES."

SEND IN PICTURES

Send in a picture of your boy in khaki or blue for the Herald's picture gallery. Many people in this city and suburbs are making a collection of these pictures and pasting them in a scrap book for future reference. You will wish your boy in the service to have his picture in the collection with the others. Have a sketch accompany the picture and the name and address written on the back that it may be returned. The Herald office has had several photographs sent in with no sketches. With the persons who sent such in kindly send sketches to print with the cuts.

Died in Malden, Nov. 29. James E. Stevens, aged 55. He was a native of this city.

Charles E. Ackerman.
The death of Charles E. Ackerman, a former well known Portsmouth man, occurred on Saturday at his home, 96 Bartlett street, Somerville, Mass., of Bright's disease. Mr. Ackerman has for the past 15 years been a ticket agent at the North Station in Boston. He was born in this city, Dec. 10, 1855, and was in the employ of the late Henry M. Clark at his provision store on Congress street for a number of years. He married a daughter of the late Theodore Perkins of this city, who survives him, as also do two brothers, Benjamin and Fred, the latter being assistant city marshal of this city at one time. Mr. Ackerman, after moving to Boston, was first employed by the old Eastern railroad in the Sausage street station. He was a member of St. John's lodge of Masons of this city, Somerville Royal Arch Chapter, Somersworth, N. H. lodge, I. O. O. F., and the Railroad Veterans' Association. He was also a member of the Masonic organization called the Anchor Club, composed of railroad employees. A man of a pleasant, kindly nature, he had many friends.

CLAIM THEY GOT STOLEN PROPERTY

Federal Officers Make Three Arrests Here Today.

Verdo and Carl Jackson of West Newbury, Mass., and O. J. Brides were placed under arrest today by officers from the department of justice. The men are alleged to have purchased stolen government property in the way of marine guard uniforms, coats, shoes said to have been stolen from the barracks at the navy yard. It is understood that several marines are also under arrest at the yard in connection with the stealing which has been going on for some time in which much property is reported missing.

Marine officers and the local police lately recovered quite a lot of government goods in this city. The men will be taken to Concord by U. S. S. Deputy Marshal Smith this afternoon for a hearing before Commissioner Burns P. Hodgman.

RUMOR OF BOLD ROBBER UNTRUE

There was a persistent rumor about the city today that a young lady had been kidnapped and robbed. It was claimed that the burglar had secured the child from Dr. Berry's when they entered his home. The police are without any knowledge of the so-called robbery.

FRIGHTENED THE BURGLARS AWAY

Attempt Made to Rob Summer Street Residence.

Burglars attempted to get into the residence of Mrs. Isabelle Margeson at No. 41 Summer street on Saturday night but were frightened away by the inmates of the house after they had broken a glass and opened the window by breaking the glass. Mrs. Margeson was awakened by the noise between 10.30 and 11 o'clock and called to her daughter who got out of bed to investigate. They could see no one about the place by looking out of the windows and went back to bed. This morning they found the window open and several plants frozen on the piazza which the burglar removed from the window to clear the way.

Typifying The Christmas Spirit--

A Gift to Beautify the Home

The spirit and tradition of the Christmas festival are essentially centered in the home. Family ties are renewed around the hearth glowing with the Yule log, hospitality throws wide open its doors, and unfortunate indeed is the traveler who is compelled to be absent from home and family.

A gift to the home takes advantage of this intense holiday interest in home surroundings. But, further, it survives the Christmas season and extends its message over the years to come, not as a memory, but as a real and living presence.

Whether your wishes urge a splendid, costly gift, of a tender remembrance more freighted with love than cost, it is here on our floor for you to choose.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Starr-Klumpp Nuptials Saturday Evening at the Residence of Bride's Parents.

A pretty wedding occurred on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, when Miss Bernice Freeman Klumpp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Klumpp of Islington street, became the bride of Robert Dunlap Starr, eldest son of Mrs. Susan Starr of Dorchester, Mass. The nuptials were attended by the relatives of the contracting parties.

The lower rooms of the home were prettily decorated in honor of the event, the adornings being appropriate to the coming Yule-tide season and arranged in the Christmas colors of red and green.

In the parlor where the ceremony occurred were streamers of red crepe paper and bunches of evergreen, enlivened with Christmas bells. The bay window was arranged as a bower of evergreen and from the ceiling hung a huge bell under which the bride couple stood when the ceremony was performed.

To the music of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, rendered on the piano by the bride's mother, the wedding party entered the room, the best man escorting the maid of honor followed by the bride on the arm of her father. The groom and clergyman awaited them.

The bride was daintily attired in a gown of Copenhagen blue messaline with trimmings of silk fringe. She carried a bridal bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jeanette Cooney White, a recent bride and a near friend, wore gray georgette crepe and carried pink chrysanthemums.

The best man was Albert Jehle of Baltimore, Md.

The marriage service was impressively performed by Rev. Nelson Kellogg, rector of St. John's church of which the bride is a member, the father of the bride giving her away. Following the nuptial rites many and hearty were the congratulations bestowed upon the newly wedded pair. A wedding repast of cold meats, salads, assorted cake, ice cream and coffee was served in the dining room. The room was prettily decorated with greenery caught with red crepe paper and Christmas bells. Music added zest to the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Starr left on the 7.40

DEATH CLAIMS SOLDIER ON HIS WAY TO FRANCE

Irvine A. Norcross, superintendent of the Hlop Stables in this city, has received the sad news that his son, Private Edgar I. Norcross, died on Oct. 3, from pneumonia, while on a transport bound for France.

Private Norcross was a member of Battery D, 73d Artillery, and was employed in Manchester. He left that city late in September, to enter the service, and sailed for overseas duty. The influenza broke out among the troops and there were numerous deaths.

Private Norcross was born in Hardwick, Vt., Feb. 13, 1892, and practically lived in that town all his life up to four years ago. He was employed there as meat cutter for the B. D. Moore Company at the time of entering the service. His parents moved from Manchester to Portsmouth last January and all who made the young man's acquaintance in this city were favorably impressed with him. He had excellent characteristics and was one of the most popular young men in Hardwick, being employed in the Libby grocery store for several years and a prominent young man in social circles and had a host of friends who will hear of his death with much regret.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Russell Norcross, serving in the U. S. army in France, and Otto Norcross, who is serving in the navy, on duty on the U. S. S. Connecticut.
